Selective Licensing in Burnley Wood with Healey Wood

Consultation period 9th August –24th October 2021

The Council are seeking your thoughts on proposals to continue selective licensing in parts of Burnley Wood with Healey Wood after the current designation ends in November 2021. It means that every house included in the new proposed designation area that is rented in that area must have a licence to operate.

Selective licensing focuses on improving the management of private rented properties and in doing so, helps improve the area.

Selective licensing key facts

- Selective licensing aims to improve the area where you live/own property. It helps landlords improve how they manage properties.
- If you are a landlord, you will need to apply for a licence unless your property is exempt.
- Selective licensing runs for a maximum of 5 years.
- There is a fee for a licence which lasts up to 5 years.
- The council does not make a profit from selective licensing.

We are consulting with you as you are either:

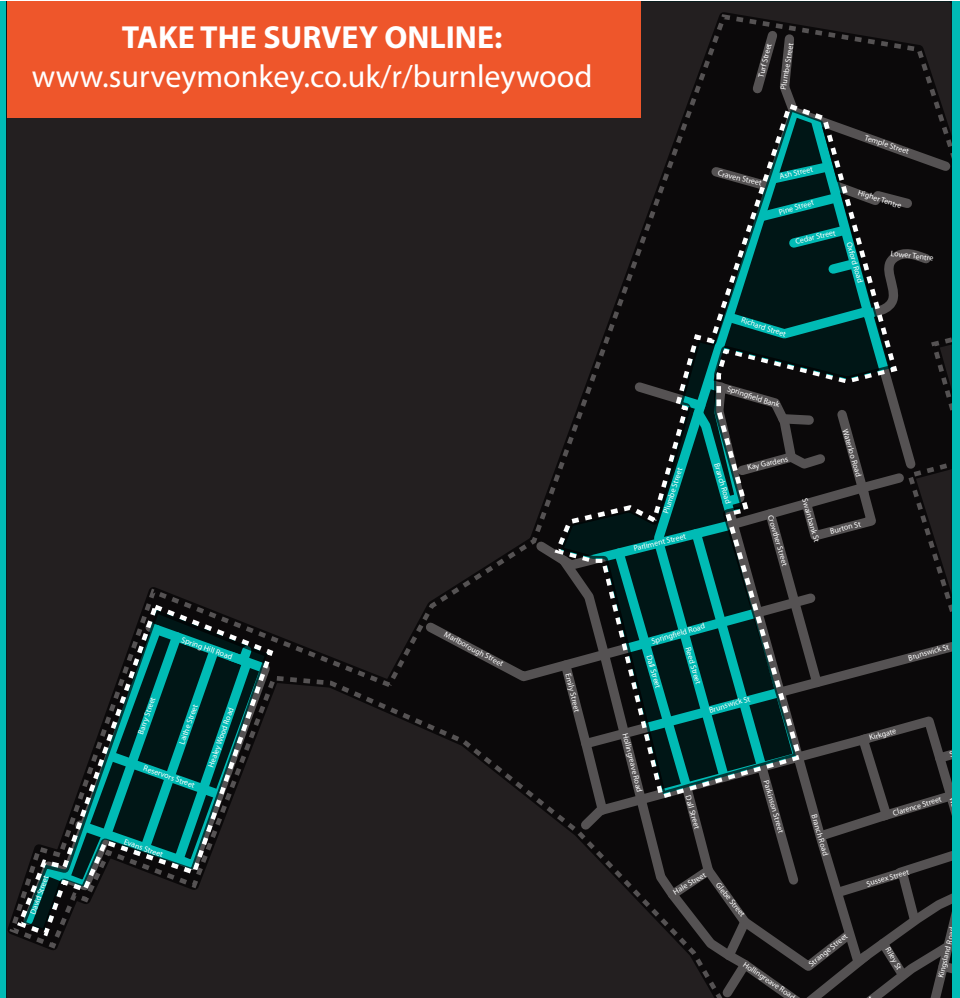

- A resident/business owner/landlord/managing agent or an organisation that provides services in the surrounding area near to the proposed selective licensing designation area or
- A resident/business owner/landlord/managing agent or an organisation that provides services within the proposed selective licensing area
- It is a criminal offence for a landlord to rent a property without a licence in a licensing area.
- We've seen reductions in empty homes, ASB and dirty back yards in the current licensing areas, and increased house prices.
- Rents have not gone up in the selective licensing area due to the cost of a licence.
- Good landlords will be able to access advice, support and training to help them manage their properties.

Why Burnley Wood with Healey Wood?

The housing market in the proposed selective licensing area started to show problems such as increasing empty homes, lower house prices, poor property conditions and higher social deprivation in the 1990's. Since November 2016 selective licensing has been helping to address these problems in your area. On the whole, the area has improved, in fact some parts of Burnley Wood have improved such that we no longer think selective licensing is needed. The areas that we are proposing to include (see map), have also improved, but when compared to the rest of the borough are still showing signs of low housing demand that could be improved further.

Burnley Council and its partners want to make Burnley better by improving the housing market, attracting people to come to live in Burnley and providing job opportunities. Selective licensing can help with this.
